SENATOR SMITH SAYS THE NEXT PRESIDENT BE REPUBLICAN

Declares Roosevelt Has No Desire For Nomination, to

NATIONAL REVENUE IS BURNING QUESTION

Michigan Statesman Visiting
Here Talks Concerning
National Affairs

United States Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan says: National revenues are not in a satisfactory condition, due to the administration's legislation.

The issues in the coming presidential campaign will be the tariff and the mistakes of the administration. The protective tariff people will be united.

President Wilson cannot get his military and naval plans through Congress without Republican aid.

The United States is not menaced, but it can afford a good navy and should proceed to get one.

Roosevelt has no desire to run. Roosevelt will support the Republican nominee.

The Republican nominee will be a good man, and will defeat Woodrow Wilson, who will be the Democratic nominee.

Yesterday United States Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived in Santa Ana to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. George R. Smith, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Fyfe, of Santa Ana. The statesman is accompanied by his wife and by his son, William Alden Smith, Jr., and his son's wife and baby.

The senator, often referred to as the "third senator from California," because of his interest in the welfare of this state, was upon the streets this morning shaking hands with his friends here.

Senator Smith comes almost straight from the national capital. He left Washington a week ago today, and a week ago tonight addressed the Republican committee of New York at New York. A brief stop was made in Michigan, which this year is having a rigorous winter.

Congress has hardly gotten down to business yet. Senator Smith remains upon the committee on foreign relations, the committee on commerce and the committee on Cuban relations, all of which are important committees. The committee on Cuban relations is important because of the sugar situation.

Conditions of Revenues
The condition of national revenues engaged the most attention at Washington, said Senator Smith today, "because they are not in a satisfactory condition. Measures have not been yielding much revenue as was expected by those responsible for the legislation. In fact, the framers of the Underwood tariff bill frankly admit their disappointment. The stimulation by the reduction of tariff was not big enough to raise the required revenues, neither did it afford that protection to American industry and labor that is quite necessary to the highest degree of prosperity."

"It is very certain that the question of more revenue will be one of the foremost questions before Congress. Already the administration is showing signs of backing down on its sugar policy, which has had a very demoralizing effect on the industry, which policy should never have been entered upon."

Concerning Sugar
It would seem that the administration would have been wise enough to use the sugar duty for revenue purposes even if they wanted to disclaim any desire to encourage or protect the domestic industry, which has become very important and which should receive sympathetic assistance from the government until we reach the time when we can produce on our own soil all of the sugar needed for our own consumption.

"It must be a little humiliating to our Democratic friends to be obliged to recall rejected principles of government in order to pay the running expenses of the nation, but if they were wrong, as most of us think they were, in dealing recklessly with recognized and practical principles of government they ought to have the courage and frankness to say so, and not attempt to hide behind the exigencies of the European war."

Party be United
"Our fight next year with the Democracy will be upon the tariff and the mistake and failure of the administration's new laws to improve American conditions. Our party will be united. There is no doubt whatever about that. Men who think alike on great national questions will not allow petty personalities to divide them any longer."

"I say this with some degree of emphasis and assurance because of my recent experience in the Massachusetts campaign, which was won upon national issues. Gov.-elect McCall for twenty years had served his state in congress and typified in his public

Disagrees With Bay City Woman M.D.'s Food Views

Youngsters Not Good or Bad
According to Food They Eat, Says Local Man

A dispatch from San Francisco says that Dr. Dora Roper declared:

That beefsteak makes boys bad and pugnacious.

That too much starchy food makes girls dirty and flighty.

That apples cause boys to have tuberculosis.

That too much cream makes girls peevish and naughty.

And that candy causes both boys and girls to "play hooky."

When asked today in regard to these statements of Dr. Roper's, Dr. John Wehrly said:

"I don't believe that steak makes boys 'bad and pugnacious.' Unless, of course, the boys get too much of it, which is not likely to be the case nowadays, on account of the high price of steaks."

"In regard to the statement that too much starchy food makes girls 'dirty and flighty,' I do not think that starchy food has that effect."

"When Dr. Roper makes the statement that apples cause boys to have tuberculosis, I think she is dreaming. I never heard of anyone before who made such a claim."

"I do not believe that too much cream makes girls 'peevish and naughty.' Of course, too much of anything would have that effect."

"And as for candy causing both boys and girls to 'play hooky,' I don't think so. It is more likely to be an inherited tendency that would cause them to do so."

FORD COIN WILL BOLSTER SHAKY PEACE MISSION

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Henry Ford today is reported as en route to America. The ridicule showered on his peace trip is said to have crushed him. The delegates' bickerings are said to have worried him.

The Exchange Telegraphs Bergen correspondent today cabled that Ford carried two cabins aboard a liner bound for America.

His departure does not mean the abandonment of his peace trip. Madame Schwimmer, the leading delegate, is expected to interest other prominent people.

Secretary Lochner remains with the party, which is due at Stockholm this afternoon.

The party is ignorant of Ford's disappearance.

It is assumed that Ford intends to continue paying the expenses so that the party will not starve.

A heretofore report said that Ford left a $200,000 check to defray expenses.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care
In the hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced through their heads;

FLOOD OF GOLD IN GIFTS FOR WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Santa Claus today reached Wall street. The financial district had one of the wildest celebrations in history.

High jinks marked the exchanges and curb market.

Money presents flowed freely. $25,000 in gold was given the exchange employees.

Dancing brokers circled about a lighted Christmas tree on the floor of the Consolidated Exchange.

Thousands of presents were given everybody.

The "war millionaires" gave liberally.

J. P. Morgan is reported to have presented each of his employees with one-fifth of his annual salary.

Many other concerns gave their employees a tenth of their annual salary.

LONG BEACH WOMAN IS HORRIBLY BURNED IN GAS STOVE EXPLOSION

LONG BEACH, Dec. 24.—Mrs. Alice Mars, aged thirty-six, was horribly burned about the face when a gas oven in the Mars Home Bakery exploded. The baking room was wrecked. Employees extinguished the woman's blazing hair.

RED CROSS SHIPMENTS FROM U. S. TO GERMANY UNHALTED BY BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The British embassy today denied the report that Britain refused to permit the shipment of Red Cross supplies to Germany.

RUMOR AUSTRIA NOT TO MEET ALL DEMANDS

GENEVA, Dec. 24.—It is today reported that the Vienna foreign office will not entirely comply with the American demands for a disavowal of the Ancona torpedoing and punishment of the submarine commander. A rough draft of Austria's reply has been submitted to the cabinet, presenting a more detailed statement regarding the sinking.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Attache Niroga Salto of the Japanese embassy today said that Japan would not look passively upon the submarineing of Japanese ships by the Germans and Austrians. He indicated that if more Japanese vessels are destroyed, Japanese troops will probably be sent to Europe.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—An inquiry into the sinking of the Japanese liner Yasaka Maru by an unidentified submarine in the Mediterranean, will be made by the state department through American consular agents.

Further diplomatic correspondence with Austria-Hungary will result, it was said, if official reports confirm press dispatches that the steamer was sunk without warning.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The Cologne Gazette today said: "The last American note on the Ancona case is friendly in tone. It does not make a diplomatic rupture inevitable, as the English forecast."

The newspaper alleged that Britain's agents are attempting to cause ill feeling between America and the German allies.

MILLIONS OF CANDLES TO LIGHT GERMAN TRENCHES

BY CARL ACKERMAN, UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—Millions of tiny Christmas trees, lighted with candles will cast a glittering ribbon of light along the top of the German trenches tonight.

Millions of packages have been sent to the troops. Each package contained tiny evergreen tree branches, each with a candle small enough to go through the mails.

The packages bear good cheer and best wishes of the Fatherland. Socks, knit by loving hands, and dainties cooked as only the German frau can cook them, messages from the home folks—all these are destined to be at least a reminder of happier days.

Then, too, the flaring little candles on the sprigs of Christmas trees, will typify the wondrous celebrations that always mark the German observance of the holiday.

Out above the ribbon of light will float from many fronts the strains of the Christmas Tree Song, "O Tannenbaum, O Tannenbaum."

'VIVE LA FRANCE!' IS BERNHARDT'S CRY; IS RAPIDLY RECOVERING

ANDEROS, France, Dec. 24.—Sarah Bernhardt today personally assured the United Press that she is recovering. She said:

"I have suffered from pleurisy. My doctor is unwilling that I go to America on account of my health. Next week I expect to go to London. I send my whole heart to my dear American public, except the German portion. Vive la France!"

AMERICANS HELD BY BULGARIANS STILL REPORT

SALONIKI, Dec. 24.—Bulgarian officials today refused to permit Mrs. Walter Farwell of Chicago and Dr. Harry Forbes of Boston, who had been mistreated by Bulgarian soldiers, to return to Greece now. Instead they plan to send them from Monastir to the Bulgarian army headquarters in Serbia.

The Bulgarian consul here assured the American consul that an official investigation will soon be made regarding the Bulgarians tearing down the American flag. If proven, he declared the raiders will be punished. Dr. Edward Stuart, chief of the American Red Cross, has entered the Bulgarian lines en route to Sofia to protest the Monastir incident.

The weather here suddenly has moderated. Snow has vanished.

The allied troops are buying thousands of turkeys.

Thousands of plum puddings are arriving from London.

The tomnies will celebrate Christmas, although they are far from home.

EDISON URGES GIANT NAVY TEST LABORATORY

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A research laboratory for the navy, to be established near New York at a cost, inclusive of grounds, buildings and equipment, of $1,400,000, has been proposed by Thomas A. Edison in a speech before the naval consulting board.

It was also announced that the experts of the board had developed the electrically propelled torpedo. This is to be compressed air propulsion.

Surprise Caused As Greece Grants 15 Per Cent Of Troops Furlough

RUSSIA AGAIN VOWS WAR TO BITTER END

Varna, Bulgarian Port, Not Taken, Is Definitely Settled Today

ZURICH, Switzerland, Dec. 24.—Kaiser Wilhelm today is reported to be suffering from a recurrence of last year's illness of cancer of the throat.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The Greek cabinet was in a five-hour session today and decided to retain Premier Skouloudis, despite his anxiety to quit.

ZURICH, Dec. 24.—On the eve of Christmas day, German and French infantry is engaged in a death struggle amid a shell-torn inferno hardly less horrible than any that have so far taken place in the great war.

Reports received here today are to the effect that along practically the entire west front colossal artillery duels and terrible hand-to-hand battles are raging.

Around Hartmannswillerkopf, the Alsatian summit, the holding of which would mean much to either the Germans or the French, huge guns are roaring with unparalleled ferocity. It is reported that an average of eighty gigantic shells are falling every minute.

Dispatches declare that the casualties on both French and German sides have reached more than 15,000.

The battling along the Ypres front is continuing with indescribable violence.

15 PER CENT OF GRECIAN TROOPS ON FURLOUGH

ATHENS, Dec. 24.—Greece has granted fifteen per cent of her army a month's furlough. The move is surprising in view of the fact that the invasion by the central allies is about to begin.

Some authorities here today thought that the move meant that Germany has secured Greece from invasion for several months.

Others interpret the move as fulfilling the reported promise of Greece to the allies that Greece will demobilize fifty per cent of her forces.

Saloniki dispatches today said that a serial reconnaissance showed the number of Germans near the frontier has been greatly exaggerated.

BRESLAU SUNK, GOEBEN DAMAGED, RUMOR

ROME, Dec. 24.—It is today reported that the Turkish battleship Breslau has been sunk and the battleship Goeben damaged in the Black Sea. It is thought this possibly occurred during the battle off Varna.

RUSSIA AGAIN VOWS WAR TO END

PETROGRAD, Dec. 24.—Premier Sazonov, addressing the Duma, today said that Russia intends to prosecute the war to the bitter end. He scoffed at peace rumors. The Duma budget committee passed a resolution that peace will be impossible until Germany's power is smashed and Russia's Persian influence established.

VARNA NOT CAPTURED, DEFINITELY SETTLED

PETROGRAD, Dec. 24.—The War Office today announced that Russian torpedo boats exchanged shots with the Bulgarian Varna batteries. This ends the reports that Varna has been captured.

GREEK STEAMER IN TROUBLE OFF NORFOLK, REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Greek steamer Thessalonika, with 200 passengers, was in trouble last night, 660 miles east of Norfolk, according to wireless messages from the Italian steamer Stampalia.

ROME, Dec. 24.—The Serbs and Bulgars have been battling in the Albanian mountains for three days. Serbian Prince Karageorgevich today reported that the Serbians are fighting splendidly and halting enemy charges. Although they lack food, their spirit is unbroken. They sang national airs as the Prince rode past their bivouacs.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Replying to a written question by P. A. Molteno, member of the House of Commons, Premier Asquith today gave the total British casualties up to December 9 as 528,227.

CAIRO, Dec. 24.—Large Arab forces surprised the British guard at Sellum, on the Egyptian-Tripoli border. Simultaneously a German submarine shelled the British. The British won. It is reported today. The attackers retreated to Mersa Matruh, losing twenty men. It is believed that Turkish agents are stirring a revolt in Egypt and Tripoli.

1 CENT PER MILE FROM SPOKANE TO SAN DIEGO

From Spokane, Wash., to San Diego, Cal., and return at a cost of one cent per mile for gasoline is some record—and that is just what was accomplished by a Washington driver of an Overland this summer.

When it is considered that mountain as well as the hardest of country roads are encountered on a trip of this character, the record is even the more remarkable.

It has been only a few weeks since C. J. Hastings and family of Harrington, Wash., drove into Santa Ana in their Overland, on their way to San Diego. While here they stopped for a short visit with old friends. Mr. Hastings called at the local headquarters of the Overland, the Main Auto Company, where many courtesies were shown him.

In appreciation of these, and the fine performance of the Overland, Mr. Hastings has written F. L. Austin as follows:

Harrington, Wash.,
Dec. 9, 1915.
Mr. F. L. Austin,
Santa Ana, Cal.

Dear Sir:—Several weeks ago I was at your garage in an Overland model 83 which I drove from Spokane to San Diego in seven days and one-half by the central route and returned by the coast route as far as Portland, where I left the car for the winter.

The cost of gas varied from 25c to 12½c on the trip, but figuring the cost, it was just one cent a mile. It took about one-half gallon of lubricating oil to every 400 miles, on an average.

On my trip I never found a place I couldn't make in intermediate if I had the right of way.

From Redding, Cal., over the mountains it stormed on us for three days, we closed the car in and at the end of the day we were as dry as when we started in the morning.

On all my trip the car was the least of my trouble and for seeing the country, a trip in an auto is the only way—and for my part an Overland is the car to make the trip.

The roads over the mountains are not boulevards at present, but in a few years it will be a paved road from the southern part of California to the northern part of Washington, which will make the people in the north and south the same as next door neighbors. Thanks for past favors.

C. J. HASTINGS.
Harrington, Wash.

HILL, FORMER FORD MAN, NOW WITH HUP

L. G. Hill, for two and a half years connected with the Ford as manager of the branch at Orange, has taken over the sales management of the Hup automobile at the J. F. Swank garage, 517 North Main street, and is now actively engaged in boosting the sales of "The car of the American family."

Mr. Hill is well known to the public of Orange county, and is recognized as a good salesman.

The sale of a 1916 Hup to Clarence White of this city is reported by the agency.

MINUTE IS SPLIT IN CENTER BY CADILLAC 8

"A new world's speed record was hung by the Cadillac Eight in Florida a few days ago—the Cadillac is always there with the goods, no matter what the nature of the demand," said H. H. Kelly, local agent, this morning.

The remark was called forth by a special article written by W. D. Shank and published in the Sunday Metro-polis, Florida's greatest newspaper, Sunday mornig, December 12. The article tells the story in full as follows:

"When Claude Nolan stripped his Cadillac Eight demonstrator this last week for a try out at Atlantic Beach, he little realized that it would establish a new world's record for a mile made by a regular stock car of the eight class.

"During the convention here of all the Southern dealers, a demonstrator car was tuned up, body taken off and wire wheels put on and taken to the beach for a try out. J. P. Leonard, chief mechanic at Nolan's, drove the car.

"A mile was carefully measured off on the beach and stop watches were used at both ends to get the exact time. Repeated tests showed that the car had a most remarkable speed and the best time made averaged 96¼ miles per hour, making the mile in 37.25 seconds.

Mr. Nolan was so positive that it beat the world's record, that he immediately wired the Motor World for official information regarding the best time made with such a stock car. The reply was even a greater surprise than was expected. It stated that the official best time ever made with a stock car with 301 to 450 cubic inch piston displacement was 40.32 seconds for the mile, or an average of 89.29 miles per hour. This record was made in 1911 by the famous racing driver "Howdy" Wilcox. This, when made officially, would give the Cadillac Eight the distinction of being the fastest stock car in the world, by being 7 miles faster per hour than the record made by Wilcox.

"This record will be one of the greatest of all advertisements for the Cadillac Eight that was ever published, and Mr. Nolan at once saw the possibilities and began arrangements to have the Automobile Association make the record official. The record of 40.32 made by Wilcox was even beaten when two were riding in the car repeatedly after the first tests were made, when several of the dealers took a ride.

"One of the most remarkable things noticed during the run was the action of the Moto-Meter, which records the heat of the car and is attached on the radiator cap. This was actually witnessed by the writer who was riding in one of the tests. While the car was standing still with the motor running the red liquid in the Moto-Meter was normal, which indicated safety in heat. The minute the car started on its wild run the liquid commenced to drop until it was entirely out of sight, which indicated the motor extra cool. This sounds almost unreasonable on account of the motor being speeded up to the limit, and if ever a car would get hot it would certainly do so under these conditions. The fan was entirely taken off to try and help get the motor warmed up, but the same occurrence happened during the entire test and after the car had been run all afternoon at such a breakneck speed, the water never boiled in the radiator and the motor was just barely warm.

"During the course of the tests a camera was lashed on the radiator cap pointing directly at the driver and while Mr. Nolan drove the car at 90 miles an hour directly in front of the crowd watching, he pressed the button and took the facial expression of himself while under the strain of driving at the rate of speed. Once W. J. Bendette had a photographer securely strapped to his car and a photograph was taken that way, but that is the first that was ever heard of being taken by the driver himself.

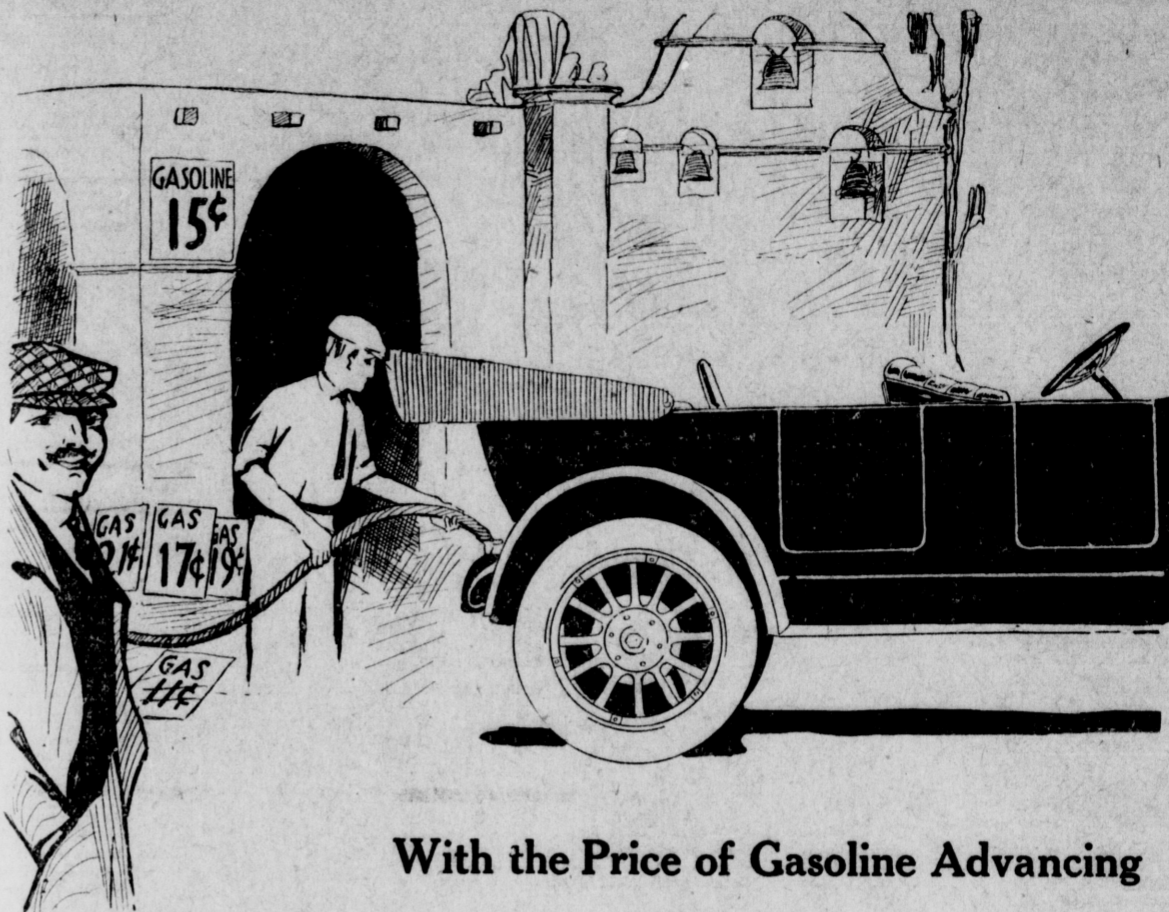

"For the past year the Cadillac 'Eight' has been making wonderful records for itself all over the country in all sorts of different stunts. Some time ago a touring car beat the fastest express train on the Southern Pacific railroad from Los Angeles to San Francisco by one hour and thirty-five minutes and then came the wonder record on the speedway in Chicago when an Eight touring car was driven for one hundred miles at an average of 72.49 miles per hour the entire time for the hundred miles taking up only 82 minutes, 48 seconds. Then finally the wonderful test here last Tuesday, when Mr. Nolan made his record.

ROSE TOURNAMENT PROGRAM ENTICING

Three great features will make the Pasadena Tournament of Roses on January 1, 1916, by far the most notable event of its kind in the history of this great flower festival. It will be the twenty-seventh annual celebration of the Tournament of Roses and will start off at 10 o'clock in the morning with a parade of flower-covered autos and horse-drawn floats over a mile long. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon, after the parade has been viewed by hundreds of thousands of people along the five-mile line of march, the Universal Moving Picture Company will stage at Tournament Park a three-reel spectacular production, "The Trial of the Sun." During this production 30,000 people will be given the opportunity to sit and see the greatest of motion picture organizations at work photographing a dramatic scenario written especially for the occasion, a picture play which will later be sent all over the world.

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon will take place what, for many, will be the greatest event of the day, the football game between the best

MAXWELL 25 MAKES WORLD'S NON-STOP MARK; STILL RUNS

A stock Maxwell "25" five-passenger touring car has broken the world's motor non-stop record. The car rounded out a full month of day and night running yesterday with a total mileage for the 30 days of 15,269½ miles and it is still running. The previous non-stop record was 12,404.09 miles and the Maxwell passed this mark on December 17, on the 25th day of its phenomenal run.

Notwithstanding the comparatively high rate of speed, the car has averaged 22.4 miles to the gallon of gasoline for the entire distance. This run is being made under A. A. A. sanction and officials of that association have been in complete charge of the car every minute of the time. All of the records are vouched for by A. A. A. official observers and the final report giving the complete distance of the run will be taken from the A. A. A. records.

The cooling system of the 1916 Maxwell has been proven remarkably efficient by this test as the car has made the entire mileage to date using but 10½ gallons of water. The economy of the Maxwell in tire expense will be shown as remarkable by the final figures.

It is the intention of the Lord Motor Company, the Maxwell distributors for Southern California and Arizona, who furnished the car for this test, to continue the run under the A. A. A. observation for possibly ten days or two weeks longer. At the finish of the entire run, when the motor is stopped, full details and particulars will be published.

Charles B. Perry, local Maxwell agent, is watching the non-stop record car's performance with much interest.

SENATOR SMITH SAYS THE NEXT PRESIDENT BE REPUBLICAN

Declares Roosevelt Has No Desire For Nomination, to Support Republican

NATIONAL REVENUE IS BURNING QUESTION

Michigan Statesman Visiting Here Talks Concerning National Affairs

United States Senator William Alden Smith of Michigan says: National revenues are not in a satisfactory condition, due to the administration's legislation.

The issues in the coming presidential campaign will be the tariff and the mistakes of the administration. The protective tariff people will be united.

President Wilson cannot get his military and naval plans through Congress without Republican aid.

The United States is not menaced, but it can afford a good navy and should proceed to get one.

Roosevelt has no desire to run. Roosevelt will support the Republican nominee.

The Republican nominee will be a good man, and will defeat Woodrow Wilson, who will be the Democratic nominee.

Yesterday United States Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived in Santa Ana to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. George R. Smith, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Fyfe, of Santa Ana. The statesman is accompanied by his wife and by his son, William Alden Smith, Jr., and his son's wife and baby.

The senator, often referred to as the "third senator from California," because of his interest in the welfare of this state, was upon the streets this morning shaking hands with his friends here.

Senator Smith comes almost straight from the national capital. He left Washington a week ago today, and a week ago tonight addressed the Republican committees of New York at New York. A brief stop was made in Michigan, which this year is having a rigorous winter.

Congress has hardly gotten down to business yet. Senator Smith remains upon the committee on foreign relations, the committee on commerce and the committee on Cuban relations, all of which are important committees. The committee on Cuban relations is important because of the sugar situation.

Conditions of Revenues

The condition of national revenues engrossed the most attention at Washington," said Senator Smith today, "because they are not in a satisfactory condition. Measures have not been yielding much revenue as was expected by those responsible for the legislation. In fact, the framers of the Underwood tariff bill frankly admit their disappointment. The stimulation by the reduction of tariff was not big enough to raise the required revenues, neither did it afford that protection to American industry and labor that is quite necessary to the highest degree of prosperity.

"It is very certain that the question of more revenue will be one of the foremost questions before Congress. Already the administration is showing signs of backing down on its sugar policy, which has had a very demoralizing effect on the industry, which policy should never have been entered upon.

Concerning Sugar

It would seem that the administration would have been wise enough to use the sugar duty for revenue purposes even if they wanted to disclaim any desire to encourage or protect the domestic industry, which has become very important and which should receive sympathetic assistance from the government until we reach the time when we can produce on our own soil all of the sugar needed for our own consumption.

"It must be a little humiliating to our Democratic friends to be obliged to recall rejected principles of government in order to pay the running expenses of the nation, but if they were wrong, as most of us think they were, in dealing recklessly with recognized and practical principles of government they ought to have the courage and frankness to say so, and not attempt to hide behind the exigencies of the European war.

Party Be United

"Our fight next year with the Democracy will be upon the tariff and the mistake and failure of the administration's new laws to improve American conditions. Our party will be united. There is no doubt whatever about that. Men who think alike on great national questions will not allow petty personalities to divide them any longer.

"I say this with some degree of emphasis and assurance because of my recent experience in the Massachusetts campaign, which was won upon national issues. Gov.-elect McCall for twenty years had served his state in congress and typified in his public

Youngsters Not Good or Bad According to Food They Eat, Says Local Man

A dispatch from San Francisco says that Dr. Dora Roper declares:

That beefsteak makes boys bad and pugnacious.

That too much starchy food makes girls flirty and flighty.

That apples cause boys to have tuberculosis.

That too much cream makes girls peevish and naughty.

And that candy causes both boys and girls to "play hooky."

When asked today in regard to these statements of Dr. Roper's, Dr. John Wehrly said:

"I don't believe that steak makes boys 'bad and pugnacious.' Unless, of course, the boys get too much of it, which is not likely to be the case nowadays, on account of the high price of steaks.

"In regard to the statement that too much starchy food makes girls 'flirty and flighty,' I do not think that starchy food has that effect.

"When Dr. Roper makes the statement that apples cause boys to have tuberculosis, I think she is dreaming. I never heard of anyone before who made such a claim.

"I do not believe that too much cream makes girls 'peevish and naughty.' Of course, too much of anything would have that effect.

"And as for candy causing both boys and girls to 'play hooky,' I don't think so. It is more likely to be an inherited tendency that would cause them to do so."

FORD COIN WILL BOLSTER SHAKY PEACE MISSION

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Henry Ford today is reported as en route to America. The ridicule showered on his peace trip is said to have crushed him. The delegates' bickerings are said to have worried him.

The Exchange Telegraphs Bergen correspondent today cabled that Ford's departure does not mean the abandonment of his peace trip.

Madame Schwimmer, the leading delegate, is expected to interest other practical people.

Secretary Lochner remains with the party, which is due at Stockholm this afternoon.

The party is ignorant of Ford's disappearance.

It is assumed that Ford intends to continue paying the expenses so that the party will not starve.

A Bergen report said that Ford left a $300,000 check to defray expenses.

It must be a little humiliating to our Democratic friends to be obliged to recall rejected principles of government in order to pay the running expenses of the nation, but if they were wrong, as most of us think they were, in dealing recklessly with recognized and practical principles of government they ought to have the courage and frankness to say so, and not attempt to hide behind the exigencies of the European war.

'Twas the night before Christmas, The stockings were hung by the chimney with care when all through the house In the hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced through their heads.

FLOOD OF GOLD IN GIFTS FOR WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Santa Claus today reached Wall street. The financial district had one of the wildest celebrations in history.

High jinks marked the exchanges and curb market.

Money presents flowed freely. $25,000 in gold was given the exchange employees.

Dancing brokers circled about a lighted Christmas tree on the floor of the Consolidated Exchange.

Thousands of presents were given everybody.

The "war millionaires" gave liberally.

J. P. Morgan is reported to have presented each of his employees with one-fifth of his annual salary.

Many other concerns gave their employees a tenth of their annual salary.

LONG BEACH WOMAN IS HORRIBLY BURNED IN GAS STOVE EXPLOSION

LONG BEACH, Dec. 24.—Mrs. Alice Mars, aged thirty-six, was horribly burned about the face when a gas oven in the Mars Home Bakery exploded. The baking room was wrecked. Employees extinguished the woman's blazing hair.

GENEVA, Dec. 24.—It is today reported that the Vienna foreign office will not entirely comply with the American demands for a disavowal of the Ancona torpedoing and punishment of the submarine commander.

A rough draft of Austria's reply has been submitted to the cabinet, presenting a more detailed statement regarding the sinking.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Attache Niroga Saito of the Japanese embassy today said that Japan would not look passively upon the submarining of Japanese ships by the Germans and Austrians. He indicated that if more Japanese vessels are destroyed, Japanese troops will probably be sent to Europe.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—An inquiry into the sinking of the Japanese liner Yasaka Maru by an unidentified submarine in the Mediterranean, will be made by the state department through American consular agents.

Further diplomatic correspondence with Austria-Hungary will result, it was said, if official reports confirm press dispatches that the steamer was sunk without warning.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The Cologne Gazette today said: "The last American note on the Ancona case is friendly in tone. It does not make a diplomatic rupture inevitable, as the English forecast."

The newspaper alleged that Britain's agents are attempting to cause ill feeling between America and the German allies.

MILLIONS OF CANDLES TO LIGHT GERMAN TRENCHES

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—Millions of tiny Christmas trees, lighted with candles will cast a glittering ribbon of light along the top of the German trenches tonight.

Millions of packages have been sent to the troops. Each package contained tiny evergreen tree branches, each with a candle small enough to go through the mails.

The packages bear good cheer and best wishes of the Fatherland. Socks, knit by loving hands, and dainties cooked as only the German frau can cook them, messages from the home folks—all these are destined to be at least a reminder of happier days.

Then, too, the flaring little candles on the sprigs of Christmas trees, will typify the wondrous celebrations that always mark the German observance of the holiday.

Out above the ribbon of light will float from many fronts the strains of the Christmas Tree Song, "O Tannenbaum, O Tannenbaum."

80 SHEELS EACH MINUTE BLAST DEATH PATH IN ALSACE; 15,000 DIE

Surprise Caused As Greece Grants 15 Per Cent Of Troops Furlough

RUSSIA AGAIN VOWS WAR TO BITTER END

Varna, Bulgarian Port, Not Taken, Is Definitely Settled Today

ZURICH, Switzerland, Dec. 24.—Kaiser Wilhelm today is reported to be suffering from a recurrence of last year's illness of cancer of the throat.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The Greek cabinet was in a five-hour session today and decided to retain Premier Skouloudis, despite his anxiety to quit.

ZURICH, Dec. 24.—On the eve of Christmas day, German and French infantry is engaged in a death struggle amid a shell-torn inferno hardly less horrible than any that have so far taken place in the great war.

Reports received here today are to the effect that along practically the entire west front colossal artillery duels and terrible hand-to-hand battles are raging.

Around Hartmannswillerkopf, the Alsatian summit, the holding of which would mean much to either the Germans or the French, huge guns are roaring with unparelled ferocity. It is reported that an average of eighty gigantic shells are falling every minute.

Dispatches declare that the casualties on both French and German sides have reached more than 15,000. The battling along the Ypres front is continuing with indescribable violence.

15 PER CENT OF GRECIAN TROOPS ON FURLOUGH

ATHENS, Dec. 24.—Greece has granted fifteen per cent of her army a month's furlough. The move is surprising in view of the fact that the invasion by the central allies is about to begin.

Some authorities here today thought that the move meant that Germany has secured Greece from invasion for several months.

Others interpret the move as fulfilling the reported promise of Greece to the allies that Greece will demobilize fifty per cent of her forces.

Saloniki dispatches today said that a serial reconnaissance showed the number of Germans near the frontier has been greatly exaggerated.

BRESLAU SUNK, GOEBEN DAMAGED, RUMOR

ROME, Dec. 24.—It is today reported that the Turkish battleship Breslau has been sunk and the battleship Goeben damaged in the Black Sea. It is thought this possibly occurred during the battle off Varna.

RUSSIA AGAIN VOWS WAR TO END

PETROGRAD, Dec. 24.—Premier Sazonoff, addressing the Duma, today said that Russia intends to prosecute the war to the bitter end. He scoffed at peace rumors. The Duma budget committee passed a resolution that peace will be impossible until Germany's power is smashed and Russia's Persian influence established.

VARNA NOT CAPTURED, DEFINITELY SETTLED

PETROGRAD, Dec. 24.—The War Office today announced that Russian torpedo boats exchanged shots with the Bulgarian Varna batteries. This ends the reports that Varna has been captured.

GREEK STEAMER IN TROUBLE OFF NORFOLK, REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Greek steamer Thessalonica, with 300 passengers, was in trouble last night 660 miles east of Norfolk, according to wireless messages from the Italian steamer Stampalia.

ROME, Dec. 24.—The Serbs and Bulgars have been battling in the Albanian mountains for three days. Serbian Prince Karagorovich today reported that the Serbians are fighting splendidly and halting enemy charges. Although they lack food, their spirit is unbroken. They sang national airs as the Prince rode past their bivouacs.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Replying to a written question by P. A. Molteno, member of the House of Commons, Premier Asquith today gave the total British casualties up to December 9 as 528,227.

CAIRO, Dec. 24.—Large Arab forces surprised the British guard at Sallum, on the Egyptian-Tripolitan border. Simultaneously a German submarine shelled the British. The British won, it is reported today. The attackers retreated to Mersa Matruh, losing twenty men. It is believed that Turkish agents are stirring a revolt in Egypt and Tripoli.

CHARLESTON IS SENTENCED TO STATE SCHOOL AT PRESTON

Mistaking Judge's Remarks For Fate, Young Man's Mother Collapses

Judge West sentenced Roy Charleston of Anaheim to the Preston School of Industry at Ione until he is 21 years old, April 25, 1917.

A motion for a new trial was denied. An appeal may be taken, though it is admitted that a sentence to Ione causes the defense to look upon the matter in an entirely different light than it would be viewed had the sentence been to San Quentin or Folsom.

In addressing Charleston just before sentence was passed, Judge West stated:

"Roy, under the law I could sentence you to ten years in San Quentin."

Charleston's mother, who was in the courtroom, a frail, ill woman, did not grasp the meaning of the judge's statement. She thought her son had been sentenced to ten years in San Quentin.

Instantly, her cry of distress was followed by a complete collapse. She was taken from the courtroom. "I do not want to send you to the penitentiary," continued the judge to Charleston. "I believe that it would be better for you to send you to the Preston School of Industry at Ione until you are 21 years of age."

Attorneys Peck and Ames had intended to appeal. They stated that they had a certificate of probable cause for appeal ready to present to the judge for his signature, but said that since sentence was to Ione they did not know what Charleston and his friends and relatives would care to do. They asked that pending appeal Charleston be admitted to bail. That request was taken under advisement. Charleston was ordered taken to the Detention Home until further order of the court.

One reason why it is believed that Charleston's attorneys will take the case to a higher court is that the longer the execution of the sentence can be delayed the shorter time will Charleston's stay at Ione be, since in the nature of the sentence his term will end upon his twenty-first birthday.

NO GERMAN DOLLS FOR FRENCH GIRLS THIS XMAS DAY

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.

LIMOGES, France, Dec. 24.—No little girl in France will get a German doll from Santa Claus tomorrow morning. The bearded old boy has supplied nearly all the little girls in the world with German dolls for years, but every one he takes out of his sleigh tomorrow morning in France, will be French and no mistake. France told Santa Claus that this had to be so, and Santa is carrying thousands of those French dolls to little girls all over the world. Until now Germany has supplied the world with dolls. From the German towns of Leipzig, Nuremberg, Lauscha, they have gone out each year behind the reindeer to gladden Christmas morning for little girls. France, like every other country, got its dolls from Germany, but now, France wants to make dolls for all the little girls in the world. France is convinced she can make lots nicer dolls than any other country and she thinks every little girl in the world is entitled to just the nicest kind of a doll it is possible to make. The new French dolls, in addition to their dainty heads, are to have the glossiest of hair, the softest of cheeks, the most wonderful of eyes and the most sparkling of teeth. They are nearly all to come from Limoges, France. Limoges is trying to become the doll center of the world instead of Leipzig, Nuremberg and Lauscha. Limoges is the center of one of the largest and finest porcelain and pottery industries in the world. To show that she is really in earnest, Limoges has already begun designing the new dolls. She has ordered several of the world's most famous sculptors at Paris to design them. Just now Limoges is trying to solve the problem of not only making the most beautiful doll in the world, but also of making it cheap enough so every little girl in the world can afford to have one. She admits that this is difficult, for the Germans can make very cheap dolls.

CANADA IS BUYING BACK POWER LANDS

OTTAWA, Ont.—An evidence of the changed policy of the dominion government in regard to the administration and control of Canadian water powers is found in an order-in-council just passed to pay some $100,000 to recover certain Dominion and school lands along the Winnipeg river.

These lands were sold in 1905 to the late J. S. Cummings of Chicago, and payments of $61,300 and $34,542 had been made on account. It has since been represented by the Dominion water powers branch, that if the Dominion did not recover its interest in these lands it would not only result in the government losing control of one of the most valuable undeveloped waterpower sites on the Winnipeg river, but would also jeopardize indirectly the carrying out of a comprehensive scheme of power development on the river involving some 113,600 horsepower.

The policy of the government in regard to water powers is that no permanent title should pass from the Dominion for a property dominating water power.

EXCAVATE FOR A BRICK BLOCK AT ANAHEIM

Anaheim Gazette: A gang of men began work Monday morning excavating for a splendid new brick block which is to be built on the southeast corner of Philadelphia and Center streets. This property formerly belonged to Dr. Adams, but is now owned by Mrs. Sadie Frohman of Los Angeles, and she is erecting the building. It will be of brick, two stories high and its dimensions will be 75x135 feet. The lower story will be divided into two large rooms, and it is understood the rear half will be a theater for the Clune Company of Los Angeles, and will be used as a motion picture show. Clune is the owner of several theaters in the best towns of Southern California, and the fact that he is breaking into Anaheim is an indication that he has confidence in its future.

According to the permit granted to Mrs. Frohman the structure will cost $25,000. It will have a white enamel front. The contractor who has charge of the work is J. W. C. Bueces of Los Angeles. Mrs. Frohman, who is a capitalist, believes that Anaheim is a good town in which to invest money, consequently she is putting her capital here.

SHRAPNEL JACK IS MOURNED BY TARS OF NAVAL BRIGADE

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(By Mail.) Shrapnel Jack is dead and there is grief today in the British Naval Brigade's interment camp at Groningen, Holland. When the bridge, which went to the relief of Antwerp under leadership of Winston Churchill, made its fighting retreat northward over the Dutch frontier, a dog of doubtful pedigree, wagging bushy tail and optimistic disposition attached himself to the retreating troops. He was affectionately received and between bursting shells and the volleys of bullets, promptly adopted. When the Naval Brigade—or what was left of it—reached Holland Shrapnel Jack was interned along with his new-found friends. He was the pet of the camp for a year. No blow of the war has been more felt by his friends than when his career was cut short a few days ago by a heavy motor truck. Speaking of Jack, one of the officers declared that he had borne all the rigors and hardships of internment with philosophic resignation and was a favorite with all ratings. Jack was buried with "military honors" and his grave will be kept in perfect order as long as the war goes on.

WAR ORDERS DEVELOP HUNDREDS OF AMERICAN WOMEN MACHINISTS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 22.—So many hundreds of women machinists and mechanics have been developed in this and other American industrial centers since the European war boomed business and cut off immigration, that the American woman's invasion of the mechanical trades threatens to vie with the invasion of the same field by women in Europe.

Thousands of women have been employed for years on light mechanical tasks in this country, but skilled women mechanics manipulating giant steel lathes, punches, drills, trimming presses and other heavy machinery, is believed to be an industrial innovation in America.

The first lecture will be given the night of Wednesday, January 12, and the other five on succeeding Wednesdays.

HOSPITAL MEN ARE BLAMED FOR DEATH

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 24.—Injuries received at the hands of three attendants in the psychopathic ward of the Los Angeles County Hospital caused the death of Edwin Furrer of Los Angeles at the Southern California Hospital for Insane at Patton yesterday, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury last night.

In the testimony the attendants are referred to as Clark, Smith and a man known as "Mac." According to Dr. C. L. Allen of the Los Angeles County Hospital these men are Robert Smith and Robert Clark nurses, and James McNelly, janitor. Whether murder charges will be made against the three men rests in the hands of the Los Angeles district attorney's office, said Albert Chappelle last night, investigator of that office, with District Attorney T. W. Duckworth and Coroner J. L. McMin of this county, conducted the probe.

Furrer's death was caused from infection spreading through his body, resulting from a puncture of the pleural cavity by one of three ribs that were crushed in, according to the findings of the autopsy conducted by Dr. J. W. Callison, county surgeon, and witnessed by Dr. Allen, Dr. C. A. Johnson of the Los Angeles Hospital, and Dr. F. C. Wilcox and Dr. Edwin Wayne of the Patton Hospital. Dr. Allen disagreed, in testifying to the coroner's jury, stating he saw no puncture of pleural cavity. Furrer also had a broken jaw and a number of bruises on his body.

Clear, Peachy Skin

Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening, and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constituted very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

NOTED HORSE WILL APPEAR AT CLUNE'S MATINEE TOMORROW

A horse, noted on the coast in racing circles, will appear at the Orange County Country Club's matinee tomorrow afternoon, in place of Carey's "Dash," which suddenly went lame. The horse that will run against Frank Clapp's "Black Diamond" and C. J. Schultz's famous blind horse, "Laddie," is "Midnight," owned by Johnny Preis, of Los Angeles. "Midnight" formerly was owned by Mr. Bartee. The horse has appeared on many tracks in the east as well as in California and has a mark of 2:07. "Midnight" has not raced for several years, but still has ample speed and is expected to furnish some first class competition for the local horses at tomorrow's meet. A big crowd is expected to attend the events.

HUGHES' OPINION MAY CAUSE MORE DRASTIC TAX LAWS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.—What is a tax? Here is a little essay on taxation by Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court. He delivered it recently from the bench in a small case from Missouri—Houck vs. Little River Drainage District. It appears to open the way for the enactment of more drastic state taxation laws by states that have hitherto been held constitutional.

"A tax is an enforced contribution for the payment of public expenses. It is laid by some rule of apportionment according to which the persons or property taxed share the public burden, and whether taxation operates upon all within the state, or upon those of a given class or locality, its essential nature is the same. The power of segregation for taxing purposes has everyday illustration in the experience of local communities, the members of which, by reason of their membership, or the owners of property within the bounds of their political subdivision, are compelled to bear the burdens both of the successes and of the failures of local administration. When local improvement may be deemed to result in special benefits, a further classification may be made and special assessments imposed accordingly, but even in such cases there is no requirement of the Federal constitution that for every payment there must be an equal benefit. The state in its discretion may lay such assessments in proportion to position, frontage, area, market value or to benefits estimated by commissioners. And as we have said, unless the exaction is a flagrant abuse, and by reason of its arbitrary character is mere confiscation of property, it cannot be maintained that the state has exceeded its taxing power."

NEWS BUDGET OF EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Dec. 24.—The men's Sunday school class of the Friends' Church is erecting a building east of the church to be used as a class room.

During the holiday vacation the school trustees are making some necessary improvement of the grounds by grading and filling, also completing the basement rooms in the school house.

Mrs. Beulah Davis, who has been ill for some time, is rapidly improving. J. F. Harmon, who was recently operated on in Los Angeles, is home, up and around and feeling very well. Modern surgery is doing wonders. In Mr. Harmon's case ulcers had closed the pyloric opening to the stomach. It was necessary to remove these and close the original opening, make a new one and graft in about four inches of intestine to make the proper connections. This was all done without pain or inconvenience save a fast for over a week. He feels that his old troubles are gone and he has a new lease on life and comfort.

Mrs. Walter McClurg has been quite ill with a cold or grip for some time, and while not yet well is somewhat improved.

The timely rains have been fine for cover crops in the orchards.

TO PLAY SANTA CLARA AT ORANGE JANUARY 1

Orange News: Manager C. F. Newton has completed arrangements for a basketball game with Santa Clara College for the evening of January 1, on the local floor. The team is reported to be one of the fastest in the north. It will play the leading southern team next week.

On Saturday night of this week, the San Diego team plays here. Not much is known of this team, except that it claims to be the best that San Diego can produce. Local fans, however, look for a good game.

On Tuesday of next week Orange goes to San Bernardino. No games have been scheduled beyond January 1, as it is thought that the A. A. U. League to decide the southern championship will begin early in January.

Orange News: An automobile driven by R. S. Barker collided with a buggy driven by Dr. O. B. Thomas on South Glassell street at noon today with slight damage to both vehicles. The bumper of the automobile struck the rear left wheel of the buggy. The fender was bent back and the buggy wheel thrown out of line. No one was injured.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Two years ago at this Christmas time it would have seemed horribly incredible that armies of professed Christians, followers of Him who came to bring peace, should be barbarously killing each other. Yet the progress of the world can't be judged by any two years' period. For the past century the prevailing condition in the Christian world has been peace. A few hundred years ago the normal, usual condition was war.

So the world does move. Up to the Christian era it was stationary. Just what happened in that little town of Bethlehem must always be a matter of the most doubtful speculation. Theologians will always argue as to what unique union of the spirit of God and the flesh of man took place in that mystic event called the Incarnation.

This much should be evident to the every-day person, who knows no philosophy and can form opinions merely from observation and cursory reading: That when Jesus came a movement was started that is revolutionizing the world. Slowly it makes progress against the soul of the brute within us. It is not to be judged by those who profess its teachings, but who by their beliefs, lives and deeds, belie and flout its laws and spirit.

The principles of Jesus have led to the emancipation of woman; they have produced tender care and nurture of children; they have led to pity for the weak, suffering and oppressed; they have softened the lot of prisoners; they have made war the exceptional and unusual thing. Out of these teachings has grown the vast modern fabric of efficient and organized charity, with infinite manifestations of personal sympathy.

So Christmas should mean more to us than a jolly exchange of gifts and the sweet influences of family joy. It is the birth-day of the soul that has lifted in part the burden of the world's woe, and will lift the rest, when stupid human nature opens toward the morning light.

FATHER AND SON

A man in Illinois who ran away from his family twenty-seven years ago has just come home. When he went away he was a boy; now he is a man, mature and sorrowful. Every day since the lad, with an angry word, flung out of the house to be seen and heard no more, his father went to the postoffice and asked in tremulous accents, "Is there a letter from my son?" Every day the answer was a gentle negative. A few months ago the old man died. The son saw in a newspaper the notice of his death and has returned. How great a fire a little matter kindleth. A trivial quarrel wrecked the peace and happiness of the home all these years for five people. A few words might have set everything right—but the few words were never spoken, for hardness of heart and pride stood in the way of their utterance. The case is not unique. There are those who in this Christmas season still cherish a bygone grievance and nurse a resentment that should have been buried in a forgotten place of sepulture. Is there a better time than the present to clasp hands in a reconciliation?—Philadelphia Ledger.

WHAT WILL YOU GET?

You will get out of Christmas just what you put into it. If you gave selfishly or formally, or indifferently, you will get no thrill of pleasure, no heart-warming, no soul-satisfaction out of Christmas. To you the season will be dull if not dead.

On the other hand, if you gave of the spirit, however small and insubstantial the physical manifestation of that spirit-gift may have been, your glad heart-glow will warm and light the darkest recesses of your soul, and through your tears of joy the most commonplace surroundings will glisten and scintillate with "gems of purest ray serene."

'DOUBLE TROUBLE'
ARTISTIC SUCCESS

By Herman Reuter.

"Double Trouble" was shown at Clune's Theater yesterday afternoon and last night. The long-awaited Fine Arts comedy, the biggest portion of the out-door scenes of which were made in Santa Ana several months ago, was unrolled at last for the edification of the local "movie fans," and for the not inconsiderable portion of the local populace which itself aided in making the picture.

The crowds at Clune's last night were immense. The first performance drew enough people to fill every seat in the house and when the first installment had ended out of the theater another long line was waiting outside. "Double Trouble" is an artistic success. It is a comedy which shows that more than a little thought and good taste were expended in its making. It is superior to "The Case of Becky" and other such elaborate pastiches and pseudo-psychological buncombe, plays that would be tragic in their deadness were it not for their pitiful childishness. For "Double Trouble" has the virtue of not taking itself seriously. It jollies itself along, and in doing so gives the audience to understand that the perpetrators of its whimsicalities realize perfectly that it is a glorious and impossible absurdity. In fact, in its touches of irony, satire and humor, it is more than suggestive of those of George Ade's fables which have been filmed. And it is generally agreed that George Ade has turned out the best film scenarios, from a standpoint on intelligence, so far known to the cinema industry.

In "Double Trouble" there is a striking absence of those elephantine strivings after humor which so often characterize the bulk of the alleged cinema comedies found on view in the movie houses of the United States. "Double Trouble" is most assuredly not one of those plays which are fondly labelled "drama" and then, as a result of their solemn evolutions, turn out to be worse than farce. And, vice versa, "Double Trouble" is not one of those plays fondly labelled "comedy" which turn out, when all is said and done, nothing more than sad, sad tragedy.

"Double Trouble," I venture to predict, is not a play which will ever cause wild stampedes to the box offices. The play is a bit too subtle in its humor, a trifle too much above the average "movie fan's" powers of perception to ever be more than just a mediocre financial success. Of course, I may be mistaken in this. As an artistic achievement, however, as set forth in the ample proof that the United States still is capable of turning out an occasional comic piece worthy of being offered for the delectation of the vast minority which does its own thinking in this country, it is a success of the first water.

Considered from its purely local points of appeal, the exhibit has much to commend itself to Santa Anans. The close observer gets glimpses of well known faces, of familiar buildings, of touches, here and there, which mean "Santa Ana" and nothing else. Officer Pond is there, big as life. Little Miss Elizabeth Roelam does what little she has to do very cleverly indeed. And the several hundred local actors who formed the political parade have ample opportunity to see themselves as others see them.

Douglas Fairbanks, of course, makes "Double Trouble" loom up like a house afire. He proves himself a true artist. One of Fairbanks' strongest points is that he never overdoes, and certainly, the "dual personality" role in the story offers plenty of opportunity for overacting. As the meek, frightened Florian Amidon, limitless chances are open for the bungling humor to become nothing more than an unlikable clown. Fairbanks, as Florian, is human always. As Eugene Brassfield, the iron-hearted politician, the chances for the actor to delineate just an ordinary "tough" are just as apparent, but Fairbanks steps skillfully around the trap that the author has prepared. Fairbanks, as Eugene, is human always.

No small share of the credit for "Double Trouble's" success goes to William Christy Cabanne, the director, whose artistic touch is everywhere evident.

SERMON PREACHED AS
CROWN CITY SOCIETY
FOLK AWAIT DANCES

PASADENA, Dec. 24.—All Pasadena society was gathered last night in the Hotel Raymond dining room, the formal opening of that hostelry being one of the regular "winter nights" of the Crown City first season. The dinner was nearly over, the diners restlessly preparing for exit to the ballroom, where bare-foot dancers were to weave their gauzy grapes in new and startling figures.

The big doors swung open and an earnest figure of a man strode through, paused while all eyes focused on him—and began a sermon. His closing words were:

"Prepare ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

His sermon was short, taking up only a few minutes, and at its close he retired quietly through the lobby to the machine in which, it developed, he had driven up just prior to his entry to the dining-room. A chauffeur, the only other occupant, would only say that they were from Los Angeles. No one thought to take the car number.

OF COURSE THERE'S A "SANTA"

From the San Luis Obispo Telegram

The great days are here, Daddy.

It's time to lay off on the book and pipe to tell stories.

Stories—stories about what? Well, for goodness' sake, about Santa Claus!

Take Johnny—or take the whole bunch—on your knees.

"Once upon a time a little boy went snooping around when the big folks at his home didn't know he was there, and he heard them talking about buying Christmas presents. So he kept thinking over this silly talk till he decided that Santa Claus was only a make-believe man.

"But when he went to bed the night before Christmas he was so worried about it that he couldn't sleep, and he spent several hours with his eyes wide open.

"Just as the big clock down stairs struck twelve he heard an awful racket, like a door slamming, and from things rattling, and something thrown around—and he slipped out of bed and crept downstairs, and there, standing near the Christmas tree was a fat man, smiling in a happy way as he took things out of a bag that lay on the floor.

"But a loose board under the little boy's right foot made a creaky noise, and he hustled back upstairs and jumped into bed and pulled the quilts over his head.

"He was 'most asleep when he heard bells a-jingling—but he mustered up enough courage to look out of the window. He could not see anybody, but he did hear some bells, and the noise grew fainter and fainter—and to this day he says that he could hear a voice saying:

"Now, Dasher! Now, Dancer! Now, Prancer and Vixen! On, Comet! On, Cupid! On, Dunder and Blitzen!

To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall.

Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all.

"And the little boy who didn't believe was satisfied that it was Santa Claus urging his reindeer up the side of another little boy's house.

'THE GIRL AND THE KINGDOM'
Used in Literacy Campaign

Inspired by the State Commission of Immigration and Housing, the California Federation of Women's Clubs is preparing for wide distribution of Kate Douglas Wiggin's story, "The Girl and the Kingdom." This is being done as a part of the Federation's contribution to the campaign against illiteracy in which the Commission of Immigration and Housing is seeking to enlist the uplift forces of the state.

The story, "The Girl and the Kingdom," a paper prepared and read by Kate Douglas Wiggin at a recent teachers' luncheon in San Diego, so interested the five hundred teachers present that a demand was made for its immediate publication. The authoress, who was formerly a California teacher and who has won distinction as a writer, has presented the manuscript to the Los Angeles Teachers' Club. The complete story is published in the last number of "The Bulletin."

the monthly publication of the club.

Miss Blanche L. Vance, president of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club, says of the story, "Incomparable—what teacher can read it without feeling a new pride in her profession!"

The spirit in which "The Girl and the Kingdom" is given to the public is thus set out in the foreword:

"It is quite within the power of the army of 16,000 teachers in California to present the nation with a state that has wholly eradicated illiteracy. The masses of unassimilated foreigners in this country are a menace to its government. They can never fully understand our institutions until they can read our language."

Copies of the Kate Douglas Wiggin manuscript of "The Bulletin" can be secured from the state or local organizations of Women's Clubs, or from the Los Angeles Teachers' Club, Trinity Bldg., Los Angeles.

Difficulties Show What We Are

Difficulties Show What We Are. "Difficulties are things that show what we are. For the future, in case of any difficulty, remember that God, like a gymnastic trainer, has pitted you against a rough antagonist. For what end? That you may be an Olympic conqueror; and this cannot be without toil."

Epictetus wrote that in the first century of our era, and as I read the death notices of two of our twentieth century conquerors I felt the history of their lives should be encouragement for any of us who are "pitted against the rough antagonist," LIFE.

Prominent educators and public men from all sections of the country, regardless of color or creed, attended the funeral of Booker T. Washington. They gathered to honor the memory of the man who rose from slavery. A man who sprang into the arena handicapped by ignorance and poverty; who did not know the date of his birth, but fought his way from a pickaninny's cabin, as a slave on a southern plantation, straight on up until he represented not only the American negro, but he became a genuine leader of men and the founder of an institute that through the ages to come will be a monument to the frame which posterity rewards to a great pioneer.

In the woods of the Adirondacks died Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, pioneer of the open-air treatment for tuberculosis, and for the wave of agitation for open windows in offices and homes, and for the erection through the United States and Canada of about five hundred sanatoriums for the open-air treatment of tuberculosis.

He was surely an Olympic conqueror. At the age of twenty-six he was pronounced a hopeless case of tuberculosis. The doctors gave him six months to live. He survived nearly a half century, kept up by his grit and enthusiasm for the betterment of others and the defeat of the disease which ultimately killed him. His last great public utterance was before the Congress of Physicians and Surgeons at Washington. He was hardly able to stand on his feet and his voice was scarcely audible because he was suffering so intensely. His address was on "The Value of Optimism in Medicine," and his final words were: "So let us quench not the faith nor turn from the vision which we carry, whether we own it or not. And thus inspired we will reach the goal."

Surely he fought the good fight and conquered every antagonist. In speaking of these Olympians let us not forget the beloved Robert Louis Stevenson, who produced some of his greatest works at Saranac Lake while fighting sickness, suffering and death. These men who grappled with giants such as few of us will ever meet, let us remember them when we are near being thrown by discouragement, fatigue, fear, mere pigmies when compared with what they fought and came off conquerors, as pupil, platform and press rose unanimously to testify.

DISMISSAL FIGHT
IN WAR PLOT
UNDER WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—The fight today was started to dismiss the indictments charging bomb plottings against Baron Von Brincken, C. C. Crawley and Mrs. Margaret Cornell. The woman testified that the Federal grand jury, failed to instruct her regarding her rights before hearing her testimony. Miller testified that this was false. He asked the court to please dismiss the indictments if it was really believed that the woman's rights had been invaded. The matter was taken under advisement.

YORBA LINDA COUPLE IS HAPPILY MARRIED

YORBA LINDA, Dec. 24.—Mr. Lloyd Buckmaster and Miss Irma Moore were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Seamans, uncle and aunt of the bride.

The wedding was a quiet one and a complete surprise to all except to those present, who were Mr. B. F. Moore, the bride's father; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckmaster, parents of the groom; Rev. C. N. Jones, who officiated, and Mr. and Mrs. Seamans.

The many friends of the young couple had been lead to expect the privilege of attending a church wedding on Christmas morning, and the real plan was kept a perfect secret.

The wedding ceremony was introduced by Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. Seamans, and was conducted most gracefully and impressively by Rev. Jones in such a beautiful manner that it can never be forgotten by those who were present.

After warm congratulations were extended the party gathered about the table and enjoyed an elegant wedding dinner served by Mrs. Seamans in her usual entertaining manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Seamans kept the newlyweds last night and this morning took them by machine to the San Diego exposition for a few days' honeymoon, after which another home will be established in Yorba Linda, and the couple will be at home to their large circle of friends, who had been so kind and appreciative, having given numerous parties and showers during past recent weeks.

ALUMNI GUESTS

Webster Club High School Met Wednesday For Its Christmas Meeting

The Webster Club of the High School held its Christmas meeting on Wednesday evening with about forty present, the alumni members being special guests.

A very enjoyable program was rendered, in which the alumni members participated. Miss Cecil Fross recited "Twas the Night Before Christmas," and Ross McPhee and James Beach played delightfully on the violin and cello.

The jolly feature of the evening was a laughable debate on the question, "Resolved, that man is valuer than woman." It was won by the affirmative. The alumni, under the supervision of Irving Burns, sang the classic selection, "Ninety-Nine Bottles Hanging on the Wall," which passed away a great deal of the time.

Various games were played and candy and gifts distributed from a prettily decorated Christmas tree.

TO THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Once more the Blessed Day has come

To soothe the hearts of Christendom—

Like some cool hand that's pressed

Upon the fevered pulse of pain.

The Christmas Spirit comes again

To quiet our unrest.

Forgot awhile are grief and loss.

The brooding cares that irk and cross;

From farthest sea to sea,

From northern lands of ice and snow,

To where the rose and jasmine blow,

The Holy Mystery.

Its influence benign outspreads;

On bended knees, with low-bowed heads,

With myrrh and spices sweet,

Fit recognition we would make,

Our alabaster boxes break

In tribute at His feet.

O holy, blessed Christmas-time,

Of perfumed tenses, pealing chime,

Thy fairest gifts, we pray,

In boundless measures, full and free,

Bestow on those across the sea,

So sore their need today!

The old and frail, forget them not;

And those about whose lives are wrought

So much of hope and prayer—

Our little ones, the coming race—

Bestow on them thy tenderest

Grace

To grow in wisdom fair!

Sweet Yuletide of thy fullness bring

Peace unto hearts now sorrowing,

And unto great and small,

To man, bird, beast—to all that live—

Thy richest benediction give,

Thy happiness to all!

—(Louella C. Poole, in Our Dumb Animals.)

HEROLD'S BRAN NEW '16 MOTOR WRECKED

M. Warner, shop foreman at Armin F. Herold's Indian Motorcycle Shop, corner of Sixth and Main streets, climbed on Herold's brand new 1916 Indian demonstrator and went to Los Angeles the other day after some motorcycle parts. While Warner was seated on the machine at the corner of Seventh and Gladys, Los Angeles, an automobile suddenly dodged out from a line of cars on to the wrong side of the street, hitting the brand new Indian squarely amidships, and throwing Warner to the street. Luckily, Warner was uninjured, but the Indian was damaged to the extent of about $100, according to an estimate made by Herold. Warner brought the parts home on time but he brought them home on a P. E. car. "Pretty expensive parts," laconically remarked Herold.

FARRAR FILM DRAMA, 'CARMEN,' ATTRACTS

Crowds gathering at the West End Theater to see the film version of "Carmen," in which Gertrude Farrar, the noted operatic star, is appearing, have proved so great that it has been found necessary to employ a policeman to keep the surging throngs in line.

"Carmen" is the greatest play and has the finest acting of any film play I have ever offered my patrons," says Manager L. A. Schlesinger. "No one will ever forget 'Carmen.' It has never been equalled in the history of motion pictures."

The Temple Theater is giving four showings of the film daily, one in the afternoon and three in the evening, beginning at 6, 7:30 and 9 o'clock, respectively. The final performance here will be given Sunday night.

FASHION LETTER

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)

Let a dear little maid
Take a dear little fan
And the things that she can
Do to any poor man
Are a lot, I'm afraid.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—When the snow flies, little Miss Up-to-date takes her fan in hand even as she dons fur in the August swelter. She would as soon think of going to opera or ball fanless as manless. And what fans! Fine feathers certainly make fine fans and fans of a feather flock together this season as never before.

But they don't open and shut together as much as they used to, for the very newest form of feather fan is as old as the Queen of Sheba and consists of a gorgeous cluster of ostrich plumes poised on a single stick of saved ivory, amber or tortoise shell.

The most vivid hues of ostrich plumes are used and bright purple, yellow, green or blue, they make an effective high light of color for any costume.

The white or black feather fans seem still to cling to the open and shut model with the rickshaws of tortoise shell or amber usually gold inlaid or gem encrusted.

Ostrich feather fans still open and shut, but they aren't quite on the level either. Instead of forming the orthodox, symmetrical semicircle of a fan, they begin stubby and low down on one side and work up gradually to their highest point on the opposite side.

Peacock feather fans are the most fancied of fantastic fans. They come either in the open and shut model or in the one stick effects. The latter are stunning and Oriental on long, carved handles of gold inlaid ivory hand-carved, or jade.

Behind the many glowing eyes in the peacock's tail feathers, you can but expect a fair maid to make more eyes. Nor is it surprising that she should be much eyed.

Square fans that aren't on the square since they artfully reveal tiny mirrors and even vanity cases with powder puffs on their reverse sides and lip sticks up their handles are bizarre and garishly ultra-modern with futuristic decorations and colorings.

Perhaps the most snarful of all is the one of silver gauze wired in silver to stimulate a spider's web with two crystal drops of dew glistening in its meshes.

Well welded in the skillful hands of a 1915 debutante, it should never fail to make the fly catch of the season.

ONLY "HAROLDS" MAY SING

A wee little lad with light curly ringlets, has been learning Christmas carols, but not just exactly getting the meaning of all the words in his busy little brain. Being ill just at the Christmas time, when he should be making merry, he spends his time asking his patient mother questions.
Yesterday he said, "Mother, why is it that only angels named 'Harold' can sing?"
Puzzled, his mother said, "Where did you get that queer idea, son?"
"Well," he replied, "the song says, 'Hark, the 'harold' angels sing.'"

FUR-BEARING RABBIT EXHIBIT INTERESTING

An interesting exhibit of fur-bearing rabbits and furs is being shown in the windows at 315 North Main street by Theodore Reuter, 909 Grand avenue, who engages extensively in the business of raising fur-bearing rabbits. The display is attracting a great deal of attention. The raising of fur-bearing rabbits is a new industry here. It is stated that the business is a profitable one, there being a steady demand for furs, at excellent prices.

PRETTY CANTATA TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

A beautiful Christmas Cantata entitled "Hope of the World" will be given by the Young People's Choir of the Presbyterian Church at a vesper service next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Some months ago the Young People's Choir secured the services of Miss Dorothy Butterfield of Los Angeles to direct them in their practice and the results of their work will be shown next Sunday afternoon in this pretty Christmas music.

All those who attend may be assured of an enjoyable hour. A silver offering will be taken.

CLOVER LEAF CLUB PICNIC

The members of the Clover Leaf Club, filling three automobiles, joyously set out last Tuesday morning for a day in the Laguna hills.

They did not get started very early and by the time they reached Laguna they were pretty hungry. So the first thing they did was to visit the beach and spread the contents of their lunch baskets on the sands. Never did luncheon taste more delicious.

After dinner some of course had to try the water and they had lots of fun at that.

Getting into the automobiles they came back into the hills and explored many of its wonders and loaded themselves down with holly enough to decorate many homes for Christmas.

The happy party comprised Miss Dorothy Utt, Dorothy Jones, Anita Preble, Jennie Pollard, Hazel Bailey, Irene Griset, Lillian Martin, Myrtle Bowman, Bernice House, Elsie Cooper and Dorothy Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bowman, Mrs. M. Martin, James Utt and Paul Jones.

EDITORIAL

CHRISTMAS EVE

This is the children's week in Tustin as well as everywhere else. There are a lot of busy people going to and fro, but there are no meetings or club and society doings; they are suspended. Everybody is absorbed in fixing things for the children's stockings.

For weeks the members of both the Sunday schools in Tustin have been practicing for a grand Christmas celebration on Friday night, Christmas Eve. Many little hearts are fluttering and anxious and mystified as they ask themselves the question: "What will Old Santa Claus bring me?"

Many older ones are very busy trying their best to do Santa Claus' bidding and at the same time thinking: "If love is not worth loving, then life is not worth living."

Nor ought it to be remembered, but well forgot; For store is not worth storing and gifts are not worth giving

If love is not...

At this season of the year the beautiful quotation from Thomas A. Kempis will find an echo in many hearts: "Love watcheth, and, sleeping, slumbereth not; though weary, love is not tired; though pressed, it is not straitened; though alarmed, it is not confounded; but as a lively flame and burning torch it forces its way upward and securely passes through all. Love by itself makes everything that is heavy light, and bears evenly all that is uneven. It carries a burden that is no burden and makes everything that is bitter sweet and savory."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

There is nothing especially new in the local bean market and prices are steady. A few jobbers raised their prices yesterday on pink from 15 to 20 cents a hundred but most of the large dealers are selling at the old quotations. Beans are firm in the east and no fluctuations are expected until after the first of the year. Although the crop throughout the east was short no downward movement in prices seems possible and on the contrary present quotations appear to be high enough.

In the dried fruit market prunes have been moving rather slowly of late due to the fact that eastern buyers claim that prices on the Pacific coast are unjustified. Medium sizes are weak but the extreme large and small prunes are holding their own nicely. No change has so far been made in quotations.

CURRENT PRICES
The following market prices on poultry and eggs, fruits and vegetables are compiled daily for the Register, based on the quotations available in the Los Angeles produce exchange for the business day preceding. AT THE COURTHOUSE

WHITE OF STAR STAGES ALONE IS LEFT AS A DEFENDANT

Plaintiff Unable to Show Jitneys Joined Together As Partnership

With a non-suit granted as against nine of the Star Stage owners, William White, Jr., is left alone to stand the fight of Eben Douglass for $1525 damages for injuries received when he fell off of the running board of a jitney belonging to White and driven by Frank Koons.

Attorney Clyde Bishop asked for judgment of non-suit as against White, but his motion was denied.

Efforts on the part of Attorneys R. Y. Williams and C. D. Swanner for Douglass failed to develop evidence to show that the Star Stages were a company. In fact, the evidence given by White and K. Fielder, Star jitney owners at the time of the accident, July 4, 1915, showed that each jitney owner kept his earnings. An occasional assessment was made to get money to pay joint expenses of the machines that had associated themselves together under the name of the Star Stages. If one machine took in $10 a day and the other $3, the jitney making $10 did not divide with the one making $3. A return ticket was good on any Star Stage, but the jitney that got cash for the ticket had to redeem it with cash when it was presented by the stage that took it. The judge found that the relationship of the jitneys did not constitute a partnership. Each stage was responsible for its own acts.

The evidence showed that Star Stage No. 14, from which Douglass fell, he says by reason of a jerk of the machine, belonged to White. The plaintiff had sued all of those associated with the Star Stages. The ruling of Judge Thomas, however, granting non-suit for all but White puts the others out of the case, unless the plaintiff should appeal from the decision. Attorneys Head, Garrett and Cain made the motion for non-suit, which was granted as against Melvin Ross, W. R. Wallace, K. Fielder, C. Noe, Ross Hostetter, Frank Sawyer, C. F. Rudolph, I. Goodwin and H. H. Lockhart. Leonard Clark, B. F. Hughes and Willard Shadel were originally named as defendants, but it was found that their association with the Star Stages should not include them, and the case was dismissed as against them before the taking of testimony was begun.

The taking of further testimony in the case has been continued to a date to be settled upon later.

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed by Actual Results.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of your throat and head a balsamic air that goes into the minutest cells, and should effectually kill all germs and microbes of catarrh. Its purpose is to enter the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomei.

A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters is the fact that the Rowley Drug Co., have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve.

Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomei and rid yourself of this serious and oftentimes dangerous disease. Nothing is gained by waiting till the vicious microbes of catarrh have made still further inroads on your health.

$750,000 FILM SUIT IS BROUGHT IN BIG N. Y. CONSPIRACY TEST

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A suit demanding treble damages of $750,000 under the Sherman anti-trust law was filed in the United States District Court here yesterday by the Imperial Film Exchange of New York against ten leading manufacturers and lessors of motion picture films. The complaint alleges that the defendants conspired to ruin its business, and accomplished their purpose.

$8000 'WEED' SUIT ON LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—Alleging fraud on the part of the St. Elmo Cigar Company of this city in the importation of tobacco from Cuba, proceedings for forfeiture of seventy-one bales of Cuban tobacco, valued at approximately $8000, which has been in storage in the government warehouse here for more than a year, were begun in the Federal courts yesterday, with the filing of a libel complaint by the United States attorney.

It is alleged that the importers misrepresented the grade of the tobacco, having entered it as filler.

career the highest hopes and aspirations of the Republican party. I spent ten days in Massachusetts in that campaign, speaking many times with Gov. McCall, and our meetings at Faneuil Hall and Tremont Temple clearly demonstrated the intense interest of the business men and the laboring men in Republican success. Every inch of ground was stubbornly contested by the state and national Democracy, and they were licked out of their boots. The Progressive vote, which in 1912 amounted to 190,000, in 1913 to $85,000, in 1914 to 35,000, dropped below 5,000 in this campaign, and that party cannot get its name on the ballot next year because it had not a sufficient number of votes.

"I repeat, men who think alike regarding political principles will not be longer divided by petty personalities.

Military and Naval

"Probably the most talked of work that the new congress will have in hand will be the question of national military and naval preparedness. There is very formidable opposition to the president's plan in his own party. It will be impossible to put it through without Republican assistance. I think the general feeling among Republican senators and representatives

ROAD TO HEALTH IS THROUGH THE KIDNEYS

No person alive is stronger than his kidneys. The minute the kidneys become disarranged or clogged with waste the warning is flashed throughout the entire system. The greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

Rowley Drug Co., the popular druggists, can tell you of many well-known people in this city whom Solvax, the standard kidney remedy, has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

There are hundreds of people in Santa Ana who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the Register that they were selling Solvax on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable kidney remedy is guaranteed to help the worst case of lazy, sluggish, or clogged kidneys, or the general headachy, kinky-backed, played-out condition that afflicts people suffering with kidney trouble. Solvax does not simply relieve. It aims to cure.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds in Santa Ana today praising Solvax because it does what it is advertised to do. Not very long ago they were afflicted with all manner of sickness, uncomfortable pains and each day seemed to bring with it a new ache in some other part of their body. Since using Solvax they are once more bright and chipper and able to enjoy life at its fullest with no more fear of suffering.

No other kidney remedy has made such a large percentage of cures as Solvax. It is so large that Rowley Drug Co. is perfectly safe in standing ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help. This is a good time to get well and you ought to take advantage of Rowley Drug Co.'s offer.—Advertisement.

is that no dilatory or factional opposition will be made use of in a matter of such transcendent and far reaching possibilities.

"As a member of the committee on naval affairs I shall favor a generous program sufficient to represent the true dignity and importance of our country. I do not see any cloud upon the horizon. We are not menaced from within or without. We can afford to have a first class navy, and should proceed at once to get one, without bluster, fear or hesitation.

Up to Administration

"I am sorry the national revenues are not in better condition, but that is not the fault of the country, but is chargeable directly to the Democratic administration, which has been reckless in its national expenditures and indifferent to its national obligations. "In my judgment our condition would be a thousand times more embarrassing than it is if it were not for the vast expenditures being made by European nations among certain lines of American manufacturers. For instance, the Bethlehem Steel Co. has more than $500,000,000 orders unfilled, and the Westinghouse people $150,000,000 unfilled. These are examples of the profligate expenditures of money of Europe, which are holding up our industrial fabric."

About Roosevelt

"Senator, will Roosevelt be a candidate for president?" was asked.

"I am positive that he has no such desire at the present time," said Senator Smith. "I am equally certain that he intends to support the Republican nominee as against President Wilson."

"Then you think President Wilson will be the Democratic nominee?"

"Yes, he is all they've got." Continuing, the senator said:

"The Republicans are not all agreed as to who the convention should nominate, but of one thing I feel sure, and that is that our nominee will reflect the judgment and spirit of the rank and file of our party. He will be a strong, earnest protectionist and measure up to every requirement of the presidential office. We have never failed to pick a good man, and we have a large field of able, upright men from which to choose. The Republican national convention will name the candidate, and he will not be hand-made or specially picked by any faction, but will be the unanimous choice of all, for upon his shoulders will not only rest the responsibility for making a great national campaign but upon his shoulders will rest the real responsibility of the presidential office, for we are going to win an old-time Republican victory in 1916."

FAMOUS DYNAMITE TRIAL NEARS END

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—Nate Coghlan, chief counsel for the defense in the Schmidt trial, astonished opposing counsel, court attaches and spectators late yesterday afternoon by the announcement that the defense expects to complete its case by noon Monday at latest and that it may finish it today. It had been expected that all next week would be required for the defense's side.

District Attorney Woolwine estimates that a day and a half will be used by the state in rebuttal, and arguments probably will extend over three or four days so that it is doubtful even with the brevity of the defense in testimony whether the case will go to the jury earlier than the third or fourth of January. However, arguments may be shortened by agreement in order to let the jury begin its deliberations next Friday evening.
